NOTES AND QUERIES.

A curious, as well as interesting and instructive discussion has lately been going on in the public press—not only in the daily papers, but in weekly journals so far removed from each other as the Saturday Review and Punch—as to the alleged misdemeanour of using Armorial Bearings without authority from the College of Arms. We say “curious” because, as we are told, those who can read between the lines see more in this apparently frivolous discussion than appears on the surface to the general public.

We have no desire to enter the argumentative arena, but to a disinterested onlooker, many of the arguments and suggestions are very amusing, and savour more of Punch than of the Saturday Review. For instance, there appears in the Standard an amusing, but apparently perfectly serious proposal, by a gentleman of high standing, for the formation of an Armorial Club, one of the qualifications for which shall be the production of a certificate from the Heralds of the candidate's right to Arms.

All mortals are divided into two classes: those authorised by the Heralds to bear Arms, and those not authorised. By the way, it seems to have escaped the notice of the Heralds (or rather of their too officious supporters, for we are sure that the Heralds themselves have no part in this controversy), that the Excise Licence to use Armorial Bearings also emanates from the Crown, the Fountain of Honour, and is prima facie as good an article at a guinea as that offered by the Earl Marshal at £76 10s.! Then those mortals who bear Arms, authorised only by the Excise Licence, are further considered under three heads. First, the man who wilfully adopts the Arms belonging to another family, or invents and uses Arms without authority: This man is a common cheat. Secondly, the man who continues to use Arms, to which he knows he is not entitled, on the ground that his father or grandfather used them before him : This man is a swindler, but in a lesser degree. (We hope it is not necessary to remark that these epithets are not ours, but are quotations.) Thirdly, the man who bears the name of an armigerous family, and who conscientiously believes that he is descended from that family, but is unable to furnish conclusive proof sufficient to satisfy the College of Arms. This man, unlike the others, preserves his self-respect, and need only apply to the College for a new grant. This seems at first sight a little hard on a man (and there are many such) whose Arms date back to a time when the College was not in existence ; but on the other hand he would then, no doubt, be eligible for the Armorial Club.

If, however, this Armorial Club proposal is really dictated by a desire to distinguish between families who are entitled to bear Ancestral Arms, and those who have only a new grant from the Heralds, it seems intelligible enough and sensible enough too, but the gist of the whole discussion has been to distinguish between those who are "authorised" to bear Arms, and those who are not ; and in this sense, anyone who cares to spend £76 10s. in Queen Victoria Street on a new grant, can annihilate "that distinction of birth, which, be it remembered, no money can buy, and not even the Fountain of Honour can bestow."

Many antiquaries will be glad to hear that the Dean and Chapter of York are having their inestimable collection of Muniments in York Minster arranged and calendared. Few people are aware of the extent of the ancient jurisdiction of the Liberty of St. Peter, which included places in counties so far south as Devonshire, and, in fact, apparently everywhere where the Dean and Chapter had property. So long as our much-lamented Canon Raine lived, these Muniments seemed to belong peculiarly to his province, and, had he lived and his health permitted, he would, no doubt, have performed this work in a far more able and satisfactory manner than Mr. Gibbons, who has now undertaken it, can ever hope to do. A similar work is also being carried out with regard to the Archbishop's Manuscripts at Bishopthorpe, of which some trifling specimens are printed in the following pages.

* * * * *

By the courtesy of Dr. G. B. Longstaff, we have had an opportunity of seeing the first proof sheets of his forthcoming work on the Longstaff and Langstaff families. He seems to have been at very great pains to collect information as to the various families bearing the name, and the work will, no doubt, be one of considerable value. A curious instance of early migration is found in the prevalence of the name in the neighbourhood of Horncastle in Lincolnshire, where one would little expect to find a Cumberland or Westmoreland family, but it is no doubt explained, by the early Longstafss having come thither in the train of the Bishops of Carlisle, who held the Manor of Horncastle from the reign of Henry 3 to that of Edward 6, and who, when their See was laid waste by the Scots in the Border Wars, made it for some considerable time their principal residence. It would be interesting to ascertain what other families in the neighbourhood owe their Lincolnshire origin to this cause. Dr. Longstaff, whose address is The Highlands, Putney Heath, London, S.W., would be grateful for any information (especially for references to isolated marriages), and would be glad to enter into correspondence with any person of the name, or allied by marriage, who may be interested.

Fairfax. £15 reward will be paid by the Editor for evidence (satisfactory to the College of Arms) of the identity of Joseph Fairfax, bapt. at Saxton, co. York, March 27, 1706, with Joseph Fairfax, buried at Windlesham, co. Surrey, June 22, 1783, aged 77. A reward will also be paid for any information as to the family, which may prove of service as a clue to the above.

 in Parlington, by Mr. Rogers his chaplain; and in the same

CAPTAIN WM. DANBY'S COMPANY.

SWINTON, October 15th, 1745.

SIR,

In obedience to my instructions, you receive on account of the progress I have made in raising my company. My officers are Mr. Jno. Hardcastle and Mr. Lonsdale, both of Masham. They are both of them possess'd of a very considerable landed estate. I have got my number of Serjeants and Corporals, two of whom seem to know their duty very well. My complement of private men has been full several days. They have begun their exercises, but we are at a great loss for the want of arms, which I have been obliged to supply by getting a number of wooden pieces made, which serve for the present. But I have not yet been able to meet with a Drummer, who was not either very exorbitant in his demands, or unfit for the service.

I propose, as soon as I am more at liberty, to do my self the honour of waiting upon you, and am, Sir,

Your most obedient, and most humble servant,

W. DANBY.

SOME WILLS FROM THE RICHMOND REGISTRY.

The abstracts of Wills here printed are from the Registry of the Archdeaconry of Richmond, the index to which is now appearing in these pages. It was in the year 1853 that attention was first specially directed to these Wills by the late Canon Raine, who published a selection from them in Vol. 26 of the "Surtees Society"; the testamentary records of the Archdeacon were at that time deposited at Richmond, and were subsequently removed to London. All of them are what are officially known as "Unregistered" Wills, that is, the Wills have never been transcribed into registers as they should have been. When, therefore, reference to them is required, the searcher has produced to him the original or a probate copy, some of which have suffered severely through neglect, and are now in many cases almost illegible or falling to pieces. Many of the Wills which when referred to by Canon Raine, presented no difficulties, are now scarcely decipherable, and it is to be regretted that these valuable records have not ere this, been taken in hand by some of the County Societies. Those here given relate chiefly to parochial clergy of the North Riding; but there are also some from Lancashire, and a noteable one from Cumberland. They are also within the same period as those printed in "Richmondshire Wills," i.e., the 15th and 16th Centuries.

It may be mentioned that a number of abstracts of testamentary records of the clergy of the Yorkshire Deaneries of Catterick, Boroughbridge, and Richmond, of the 16th Century, will be found in Vol. xiv. of the "Yorkshire Archaeological Journal."

PECULIAR JURISDICTION OF ST. LEONARD'S HOSPITAL, YORK.

Certain old registers of this Hospital have recently come to light, which reveal the existence of a peculiar jurisdiction hitherto unknown, apparently even to Dr. Marshall, exercised before the Reformation within the liberty of the Hospital.

The jurisdiction in probate and other matters seems to have included various parts of York, Newton-on-Ouse, Beningbrough, North and South Cave, Gisburn, Pikhill, Eskylby parish Burneston, Heslington, Carnaby, Great Broughton, Hotham, Bromfleet, Topcliffe, Rufford, Over Helmsley, Easthorpe parish Pocklington, and Saxton.

Most of the wills belong to Newton-on-Ouse, the present Peculiar indexes of which begin only in 1682, but there are wills from all the above places from 1421 down to the Reformation.

There are so many bequests for burial in the Hospital Church, that it almost looks as if this circumstance was by itself sufficient to give the Hospital jurisdiction.

Amongst many others, we notice the wills of several Kydalls of Newton, in 1432, 1436, and 1474; John Aslaby, janitor of St. Leonard's, 1440, and his wife, 1445 [? ancestors of the Aislabies of Studley]; Lady Agnes Constable, widow of Sir Robert Constable, 1495; Wm. Frankyssh of North Cave, 1421; R. Thornton, rector of Almonbury and vicar of Silkston, who died at Rome, intestate, 1471.

There are also many inquests on sudden deaths by the King's Coroner within St. Leonard's Liberty; amongst others, one in 6 Hen. VIII., on the death of Henry Sutton, aged 4, and John Talliour, aged 5, who, climbing up a "maske fatte" in the Hospital Brewery, just as modern children might do, were there drowned.

Also proceedings in cases of defamation, incontinency, &c., within the Liberty.

A curious account is given of what was done in the case of clerical felons in 1512, for on the 5th March in that year a certain George Akeryg, late of St. Mary's Abbey, Merewall, co. Warwick, stole a silver girdle from the image of St. Mary in St. Mary's Abbey, York, and straightway fled to St. Leonard's Hospital, which is only a few yards distant, and there acknowledged the felony, and remained there till the 10th of the same month, after which, before the Coroners of the City and of the Hospital, he petitioned "to be abjured the realm," and accordingly this was done by the Coroners, and he was forbidden ever to return into the realm without the King's special mandate, and was shipped off from the Port of Hull.

There are also some interesting lists of obits within St. Leonard's Church, 13 Ed. III. to 10 Rich. II.

LANGTON OF LANGTON,
co. LINCOLN.

In a short paper in the Report of the Associated Architectural Societies, 1894, containing some ancient records relating to the manor of Langton and its Lords, I was obliged for want of evidence to leave it doubtful who it was of the Langton family that married Sarah, the daughter and eventual co-heir of Alan de Mumby, and was the father of Gilbert and Richard de Langton, the first members of the family of whom I then had any certain knowledge. I am now able to produce what I hope may be considered sufficient evidence that Osbert de Langton was the ancestor I sought for. I have been brought to this conclusion in this way. I found in the index to the charters in the Kirkstead Cartulary (B. M. Vespasian E. xvij.) a reference to charters of an Osbert de Langton. Then in the volume of Lincoln "Final Concords" I found mention of a Gilbert, son of Osbert, who A.D. 1202, quit-claimed all right in a bovate of land and 2 tofts in Langton to Ingeleis, who was the wife of Daniel, and Simon her son, and his heirs. On the next opportunity I searched the Kirkstead Cartulary, and found a charter (Ulsebi xxxv) of Ralph de Grendal to which Gilbert son of Osbert de Langton was a witness. A charter by which (xxv) Osbert de Langton granted to Kirkstead the whole land which Simon son of John held of him in the territory of Langton, the witnesses being Philip son of Robert de Tat'sal, Simon de Driebi, Hugh son of Robert de Hagwrdeham, Eudo de Alford, Henry de Wodehal. And what is still more convincing, the following charter:—

(xxijj.) "Know, &c., that I Amfredus de Cheu have granted &c., to the Church of S. Mary and the Monks of Kyrkested in pure and perpetual alms v selions, and common pasture for xl. sheep in the fields of Langeton, &c."

Witnesses. Henry, Chaplain of Langeton, Osbert de Langeton, and Gilbert and Robert and Richard his sons, Simon son of Thomas de Langeton, Eudo de Sut'bi, &c."

There is mention of Henry, Chaplain of Langton, in A.D. 1219 (Bishop's Registers) which gives some clue to the date of the charter, and we may, I think, safely conclude that Osbert de Langton had by Sarah de Mumby his wife, three sons, Gilbert, the eldest, who presented to the Church of Langton in 1219, died without surviving male issue. As did also Robert. And Richard succeeded, as son and heir to his mother, whose son and heir, John de Langton, was the plaintiff in a suit ⁴⁵ Henry III. with reference to the Mumby inheritance.

Mr. Langton, now of Langton, is, I believe, the only landowner in the County of Lincoln, who can prove descent in the direct male line from an ancestor who resided in the same parish and held some of the same lands at the beginning of the 13th century.

STONEHOUSE : A CLEVELAND CATHOLIC FAMILY.

The great veneration my father bore to his grandmother Elizabeth Stonehouse, who claimed for her family continuous Catholic descent, and the tradition that the Christopher Stonehouse mentioned in Morris's "Troubles of our Catholic Forefathers," belonged to the family, led me to make some search. By the Hinderwell Registers, it is seen that she was daughter of Roger, son of Roger S. by Mary Hutchinson his wife; her mother being Elizabeth Pindar or Pinder (a witness to her Will spells it Pindar), daughter of Thomas Pinder and Elizabeth Stooke. Pinders and Pounders, &c., of Brotton, and Hutchinsons, of Grinton and Middleton Tyas, abound in the Recusant lists. But Stooke or Stowpe, of Marske, Brotton, &c., appear too frequently in the Jury lists, and it is suggestive that a Thomas Pinder took the Oath of Supremacy about 1700 (?), and that a William Ratcliffe also took the Oath, although before the date of a Marriage Licence in 1637 of William Ratcliffe, of Hinderwell, mercer, and Joan Stowpe, of Guisbro', spinster. Elizabeth Stonehouse used specially to mention her relatives going with the ladies of the Ratcliffe family to Stokesley (?) to be fined for Recusancy. The North Riding Record Society's publications fully confirm this at Quarter Sessions held at many places.

This search has led me to make some discoveries of interest to some families, besides some religious orders. I append a chart, giving shortly certain particulars of those I can join to Christopher, and some particulars of a little nest of recusants.

In Foley's "Records of the English Province of the Society of Jesus," some particulars of Andrew Stone occur. The industrious compiler would seem to have made mistakes about this Jesuit Father. He describes him as born at Eastbrow or East Brow, and supposes this to be Easby, of which there are two in Yorkshire. If Foley had consulted a Gazetteer or Directory he would have found a more similar name in East Row, a hamlet in the joint township of Newholm-cum-Dunsley, in the parish of Whitby. Again when Foley came across the name Stonas, following Andrœas, he naturally took it for Latin, instead of broad Yorkshire for Stonehouse. This enables us to identify him with the nameless priest, the brother of Anne and Mary Stonehouse, daughters of "Christr. Stonehouse, a good man and most constant Catholic dwelling in Dunsley," in Morris's "Troubles of our Catholic Forefathers," (Series I., page 222—5), and with Christopher Stonas, of Whitby, and his wife, "recusantes old," and with Xpofer Stonas (with others), suspected to be secretly married, not known where, in Peacock's "Yorkshire Catholics." We then see that Foley's conjecture that Andrew Stonehouse's mother might have been a Fairfax is wrong, and that the first wife (I learn it was his first wife from a different MS. from that quoted by F. Morris) belonged to the greater family of Smith. Mr. Waddington, of Grosmont, informs me of a Marriage Licence—William Stonehouse, of Whitby, and Margery Fairfax, of ——, in 1613, but that the marriage did not take place at Whitby. It may have been a secret marriage, of which the only registers are found in the Recusant lists.

The "North Riding Record Society" further furnishes us with the names of other members of the family in the list of recusants.

Margery Stonas, of Newholm, widow, was a recusant in 1636 and 1641. The relationship is not apparent; nor that of "John Stonas, husbandman, of Whitby, recusante old," in 1604, 1612, 1614, evidently an older man than Christopher, and his wife Alison or Ellis, a recusant in 1611, 1612 and 1614, but who conformed once, perhaps temporarily, in 1616; nor Jane wife of Alexander Stonas, of Eskdaleside, yeoman, recusant in 1629, Joseph Stonas, labourer, and Alice his wife, and Dorothy wife of Rowland Stonas, in 1641. These all relate to Whitby parish.

Peacock's "Yorkshire Catholics" gives some others of the name spelt Staynhouse, &c., at Skelton-in-Cleveland. These also appear in the "North Riding Record Series." Although John and Alice are described as "poore laborers" in 1604, in 1597 in the "Yorkshire Feet of Fines," John Stonehous and Alice his wife appear as defendants in a suit concerning ten acres of meadow in Skelton. John Stonehouse was a recusant in 1604, 1611, 1614, when he is called "John Stonas, of Stanghow," this being part of Skelton, and in 1616. Other entries there are, Richard S., of Lofthouse, 1623; Anne, wife of James S., of Danby, husbandman, 1624. Richard S., yeoman, of Brotton, 1625 and 1641. Robert S., tailor, 1627, called labourer in 1632; Anne his wife, 1629. Joseph S., labourer, 1633. George S., labourer, 1637, all of Egton. Elizabeth Stonas, supposed wife of Wm. Bartram, tincker, 1627. (In Peacock, 1604, Mr. W. Bartram, pewterer supposed to have two priests in his house). John S. and Annie his wife, 1690, all of Stokesley. Richard S., yeoman, and Anne S., spinster, and Ellice S., spinster, in 1614, of Kilton-in-Brotton. Nicholas Stonas, of Kirkleatham, in 1674. Thomas and Thomas (2), Annie his wife, and Mary S., of Hilton (? Kilton-in-Brotton), in 1674, and Maria Stonas, Anne, Henry and Anne his wife, of Brotton, in 1690.

From a conjunction of names, I have been inclined to think that Ursula Stonehouse's maiden name may have been Wright, not of Ploughland, but of York, (Apothecaries and recusants who gave two sons to the Church). An Ursula Joye, widow of Wm. Wright, lord mayor 1518 and 1535, died in 1543 (Surtees Society, vol. 57), and the name would be likely to survive in the family.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

It would be of great use to many Genealogists if a list could be compiled of the dates and present place of deposit of old Manor Rolls, and perhaps if we print a few such notes as a specimen, some of our readers may be kind enough to add to them for a future issue:—

Wakefield, 1273, to present date. (Wakefield Manor Office.)

Swaledale Manors (Healaugh and Muker), 1686 to 1849. (Messrs. Rogers and Hudson, Richmond, Yorkshire.)

Thornton-cum-Bishoptside, commence 1665. (Messrs. Wise and Son, Ripon.)

Kirkby Malzeard, Fountains, & Hutton Conyers. (Marquis of Ripon.)

Bradford, 1569 to 1696. (Nydd Hall.)

Allerton Mauleverer, Henry 4 to Philip & Mary. (Nydd Hall.)

Burley-in-Wharfedale, 1 Henry 4 to 2 & 3 Philip & Mary. (Burley Hall.)

Bishopthorpe, 1621 to 1814. (Archbishop of York.)

Cawood, 2 & 3 Philip & Mary to 1840. (Archbishop of York.)

Wistow, 13 Elizth. to 1840. (Archbishop of York.)

Menston, 49 Ed. 3 to 17 James 1. (Farnley Hall.)

Some proceedings in a matrimonial cause of about the time of Elizabeth, preserved amongst the muniments of the Dean and Chapter of York, give the following curious list of gifts during courtship. The suit was brought by one Edward Walker, against Dorothy Vavasour alias Walker, late of Copmanthorpe. Edward Walker says he is married to Dorothy, and prays for a declaration that the marriage is valid. Dorothy's answer is not to be found; but her further answer (from which it may be surmised that she pleaded precontract) is as follows:—

In primis the said Henry Vavasor in signe and token of matrimony, gave unto the said Dorothy a ring of gold with a stone called a Jacent, which she received thankfully.

2. Item, a hope of gold having writyn in it—Amor vincit omnia; and an other posie on the out syde, viz.—No hope but in God.

3. Item, a hope of gold having writen on the oute side—Truthe trieth trowthe.
4. Item, a tablet of gold with a grene stone; another of an emerode set in it.
5. Item, fyve angelles of gold.
6. Item, a of sylver and gilt.
7. Item, half a ryall of gold of Kyng Edwardes coyne.
8. Item, a pare of cremesyn sattan sleves. All which the said Henry gave and the said Dorothy received in token of matrimony contracted and to be solemnized between them.

Colthurst of Edisford. Required the earlier Yorkshire pedigree of this family. The Visitation of Somerset, 1573, p. 15, gives, "Henry Colethurst, yo^r Br. of Colethurst of Edisford, Yorks." as the father of Matthew Colthurst, of Wardour Castle, Wilts. (d. 1559), from whom the Somerset branch. Edmund Colthurst, of Hinton, co. Somerset, son and heir of the said Matthew, married Elinor, daur. to Thomas de la River, of Yorkshire. Can anyone tell me the abode of this family of De la River, in Yorkshire? A John de la River was buried at Hinton Charterhouse, co. Somerset, 2 Jan., 1573-4.

R. G. BARTLETT,

Corfe Castle, co. Dorset.

Otway—Fleming. Can any reader tell me in what way the poet, Thomas Otway, was connected with, or related to the family of Fleming (Le Fleming, of Furness)? I remember seeing the connexion made out some years ago, but I did not take a note of it at the time, and I quite forgot where I saw it and what the connexion was.

FREDERICK W. RAGG,

Marsworth Vicarage, Tring.

It catalogues pedigrees and collections of family history in print and MS., its aim being ever to open up fresh ground. It gives clues to other sources of genealogical information. NOTES AND QUERIES.

The Rev. C. W. Foster, of Epworth, is compiling a Calendar of Lincoln Wills, 1280—1700, which will contain:—(1) An Alphabetical Calendar of the Wills and Administrations, from 1280 to 1547, recorded in the Episcopal Registers of the old Diocese of Lincoln, comprising the counties of Lincoln, Leicester, Northampton, Rutland, Huntingdon, Bedford, Hertford, Buckingham, and Oxford. (2) An Alphabetical Calendar of the Wills of the Consistory Court proved between 1507 and 1700, which are now deposited in the Probate Registry at Lincoln. (3) It is also proposed to add Alphabetical Calendars of the Wills proved in the various Peculiar Courts, and now deposited in the Lincoln Registry. The Testators' places of residence, and, as far as possible, their status, will be given; and an index of places will be added.

The Calendar, which will probably be completed in two royal octavo volumes, will be printed by the British Record Society, and will be issued to its members by instalments in ordinary course. Persons who are not members of the Society may obtain copies of one or both volumes, in parts as issued, at the subscription price of half-a-guinea a volume, by sending their names to the Rev. C. W. Foster, Epworth, Doncaster.

Beho—Napier—Gibson. Notes in Vol. II. p. 31, re Beho, and Vol. III. p. 84, re Farrar, enabled me to amplify some family notes of Gibsons, descended from George Gibson, the keeper of a popular Inn in York, of which Drake says, “I must not omit a public Inn here (Finkle Street, perhaps merged in the Assembly Rooms, as George Gibson sold land in Lendal Street for the building) of great resort, though without a sign; good wine, with good usage, needs no inviting bush. The house is kept by Mr. George Gibson, and his stables, sufficient for two hundred horses or more, are in the Mint Yard.”

Some notes of Paver's shewing that the Napiers seem to have been interested in land at Killingbeck, Leeds, suggested that the Gibsons might be connected with the John Gibson, Mayor of Leeds in 1700, who seems from Thoresby to have been a wine merchant.

There is a note of another Inn-holder, Christopher Gibson, of York, in 1651-2. I should be interested if any of your readers could give information of these first Gibson's, Napier's, and Beho's. Is Beho an English name? Thomas Beho's Will suggests that he had connections with Cambridge, Surrey, and Hants.

NOTES ON SOME OF THE TERMS IN THE WILL, &c.

Jazerine-Jesseraunt. A light armour composed of splints or small plates of metal rivetted to each other, or to a lining of some stout material. Sir R. Salvayn (the Will now printed) in his Will 1420, bequeaths his "Habirgen of gesseran." (Fairholt costume in England, Ed. 3, by H. A. Dillon, ii. p. 260.)

Habergeon-Haburion. A coat of mail or breastplate, the diminutive of hauberk, being shorter and lighter in 1420, Sir Roger

Salvayn bequeaths a "Habirgen of gesseran," another of "Mylen open befor," and another "Habirjoun of millon." [Ibid.]

Sir Roger Salvayn was son of Sir Gerard Salvayn, of Herswell and North Duffield, co. York, by Alice his wife, daughter of (Surtees Hist. Durh., iv. p. 118.)

He was one of the Knights of the body of King Henry V., who left him in his Will, dated 1415, £100 in gold. (Rymer Fœdera, iv. pt. 2, p. 139.)

He was present at the Battle of Agincourt in the retinue of the King, and was made a Knight of the Bath at the Feast of St. George at Caen. 6 Hen. V., 23 April, 1419. (Battle of Agincourt, by Sir N. H. Nicolas, p. 383. Surtees Hist. Durh., ut supra.)

He married Matilda, daughter of Sir Robert Hilton, of Swine in Holderness. She survived him and was living a widow in 1429, when her daughter Isabel made her Will.

Of the persons mentioned in Sir Roger's Will, Sir Gerard Salvayn his father was born in 1358. Served in Scotland 1383 and 1385. Gave evidence in favour of Sir Richard Scrope in the Scrope and Grosvenor controversy. (Scrope and Grosvenor Roll, by Sir N. H. Nicolas, ii. p. 340.) He took an Oath of Allegiance in 1403, to King Henry IV., to hold no communication with Henry, Earl of Northumberland. (Rymer Fœdera, iv. pt. 1, p. 52.)

He died before 26 Oct., 1420, when his son Sir Roger made his Will, and was buried in the church of the Grey Friars, York. (Collect. Topogr. et Geneal., iv. p. 78.) Administration of his goods was granted to Lady Alice his widow, 9 May, 1423. (Vacancy Reg. of Dean and Chap. of York, fol. 330.)

Thomas (brother of Sir Roger) was probably the soldier of that name who was present at the Battle of Agincourt in the retinue of Sir John Grey. (Battle of Agincourt, by Sir N. H. Nicolas. p. 346.) Sir John was brother of Sir Thomas Grey, of Heton, who was beheaded at Southampton, 5 Aug., 1415, whose daughter Johanna married Sir John Salvayn, of Newbiggin. (Graves' Hist. of Cleveland, p. 289.)

John (brother of Sir Roger). Sir John Salvayn's name is included in the list of persons entitled to the ransom of French prisoners between 1415 and 1430. (Battle of Agincourt, app. No. xv., p. 61.)

In 1416-17, safe conduct was granted to Rodricus de St. Andre, prisoner of Sir John Salvayn. (Carter's French Gascon Rolls, p. 234.) Sir John was with the Earl of Salisbury at the siege and capture of Yory, and at the subsequent battle, 1425, and was also probably at Agincourt. (Hall's Chronicle, Ed. 1809, p. 121.)

He married Johanna and died before 1432, when administration of his goods was granted at York. He was buried in the church of the Grey Friars, at York. (Coll. Topogr. et Geneal., iv. p. 78.)

Gerard (brother of Sir Roger) married Agnes de Whalton, heiress of Croxdale, and was the ancestor of the Salvins, of Croxdale, co. Durham, of the present time. (Surtees Hist. Durh. iv. p. 118.) He had livery of his wife's lands in Croxdale and Queryngdon, co. Durham, 1st Oct., 1402. His Will is dated 4 May, 1422, and was proved 6 Dec. following. It is in the Principal Registry of the Court of Probate.

John (son of Sir Roger) became Bailiff of Rouen during the English occupation, 1431-1432. He married Eleanor, 4th daughter of Sir John Willoughby, but died without issue in 1441. His seal attached to one of the charters shews a Fleur de lys between the Mullets of the usual shield of Salvayn, and two wolves or dogs as supporters. (Brit. Mus. Add. Charters, Nos. 1421, 1431, 3723, 3724, 3695, 3697, 3798. Coll. Topogr. et Geneal., vii. p. 155.)

Gerard (son of Sir Roger) was probably Sir Gerard Salvayn who left a daughter and heir Margaret married to Clervaux. She died in 1478, and in the inq. p. m. lands are mentioned as her portion which were formerly in the possession of her great grandfather Sir Gerard Salvayn.

Alison or Alice (daughter of Sir Roger) married Henry Wilton, and their son John Wilton, als. Salvin, became heir to his uncle Sir John Salvayn, Bailiff of Rouen, aged 16 years, 1443. Another son Henry was under age at that date. (Surtees Hist. Durh., iv. p. 118.)

Isabel (daughter of Sir Roger) died in 1429, unmarried. Her Will is printed at length (Test. Ebor, i., p. 418) in which many members of her family are mentioned. She was buried in the quire of the Convent at Swine in Holderness. (Burton Monas. Ebor, p. 255.)
